

Odd Jobs

"A website to find unique workers with professional capabilities."

Main Topic

Odd Jobs is a website where you could find a handful of workers that will lend a hand for your everyday problems. With our service maintaining your house will become easier and more effective, since our workers are experienced and professional.

Target

Our general target for our services is household families. As it is quite hard to maintain a house by yourself, you would need an extra hand from our workers. But we also welcome people with other circumstances to use our website!

SUICIDE GUYS

Problem

It seems harder to find workers willing and capable of doing specific jobs these days, especially with COVID around and all the household services are becoming harder to find,

Solution

We've made a website where you could order various services for everyday troubles with fast service, easier paying methods, and professional workers, our website should be the best pick for your problems.
